

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Awarded one of the top 10 entrance scholarships to McGill University to study business administration

Earned his B Com in Management Information Systems from McGill while developing leading edge software for the new IBM PC, graduating in the top 10% of the University

Joined Imperial Oil in Toronto, his first in depth exposure to the oil industry from Canada's leading integrated oil company

Completed his MBA at the Ivey School of Business in finance and marketing, finishing the first year as one of the top 10 students in a class of 250, and earning a graduate scholarship in his second year

One of 5 Canadians seconded to Hong Kong as part of a JV between Deloitte Canada and Deloitte China, the first JV of its kind, and worked across China and Japan

Admitted to the Deloitte partnership and assumed leadership for helping oil and gas CIOs embrace the emerging changes from client server and ERP

Led an account team at Irving Oil, propelling the client to one of Deloitte's top four largest oil and gas clients world wide

Led the gas industry team in Brisbane Australia in support of three world-scale LNG projects, and advised 6 LNG projects in Western Australia on talent management

Developed a world-class expertise in liquefied natural gas, authored over 200 articles and 75 podcasts on innovations and sector developments in the global gas industry, ultimately responsible for 30% of Deloitte Australia's resource industry media impact

Invited to advise the IEA on the impacts of digital on oil and gas, and served as a peer reviewer of their recent publication on the impacts of digital on energy

Publishes the world's most popular blog on the impact of digital on oil and gas, and broadcasts a companion podcast, and is presently converting the series into the first book ever on the impact of digital on the full oil and gas industry.